

The Bible and Other Texts: The Character of Scripture and its Role in our Scholarship.

Craig G Bartholomew, February 2021

GLORY

THE GAP

Weber writes: “today no one can really doubt in his heart of hearts that science is alien to God—whether or not he admits it to himself. Release from the rationalism and intellectualism of science is the fundamental premise of life in communion with the divine.”¹ He asserts that those who cannot endure this “release” should return to the arms of the churches. However, by doing so “he will inevitably be forced to make a ‘sacrifice of the intellect,’”²

A SPADE

A LAMP

- Ontology, or the nature of reality

¹ Max Weber, The Vocation Lectures. Hackett Classics. (Indianapolis, IN: Hackett, 2204). Kindle Edition.

² Ibid.

- Epistemology, which I define as how to go about knowing something so that you can trust the results of the knowing process
- Anthropology, or the view of the human person

APPLES

KNEES

The Kirby Laing Centre for Public Theology in Cambridge

Charity registered in England and Wales

Charity Number: 1191741

Margaret Beaufort Institute

12-14 Grange Road

Cambridge

CB3 9DU